TERSE TALES OF THE TOWN

There will be no issue of The Astorian Friday morning.

Eight Mills Declared—

School district No. 16, of this county, located at Knappa, yesterday filed with County Clerk Clinton a formal declaration in favor of an eight-mill levy on its property for school purposes, for 1907.

It Is Up To You—

When a good thing comes your way it is your loss if you let it go by. Charles Heilborn & Company are making some interesting offers in this issue, and they are yours to make good on.

Card of Thanks—

The sisters of St. Mary's Hospital wish to thank those persons who so liberally made donations yesterday, and particularly to the children from the Shively school for their gifts to the institution.

Office in City Hall—

City Attorney Charles H. Abercrombie is now installed in the offices in the city hall formerly occupied by School Superintendent Clark, the city's legal business having grown to such an extent that it was impossible to conduct it from his former office on Commercial street.

Off For Salem—

Mesdames Bella Irwin and Augusta Beach, State attendants, from the Insane Asylum, arrived in the city yesterday noon, to take charge of Mrs. Hilma Peltari, the unfortunate woman whose mind has deserted her for the second time in life, and convey her to the asylum. The party left up on the 6:10 express last evening.

The Chance is Yours—

A glance at the advertisement of Charles Heilborn & Company, in this issue, will indicate to you where and what that chance is, and what it is worth to you.

Receives Warrant—

Mrs. Julia Strauss yesterday received her warrant for $2000 from the Grand Lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen.

Figures Don't Lie—

Published figures, over the name of a reliable firm have a convincing ring and hold the essence of advantage to whose ever shall use them. Note the string of quotations in the Charles Heilborn & Company ad, in this issue.

A Log Barrier—

When the noon express from Portland approached the town of Bugby, en route to this city, it encountered a great fallen log across the rails and right-of-way, with the up freight on this side of the barrier. The log had tumbled for several hundred feet above on the heights and for an hour engaged the best skill and strength of the train crews to remove it so that the trains might pass.

The Astorian, 60 cents monthly.

Notice to the Public:

On and after Dec. 1st, 1907, all charge accounts will be discontinued and purchases made at this store will be strictly on a CASH basis

H. R. Hoefler

Plum Pudding Ice Cream—

Something new and rich in bricks or bulk delivered at your residence; order now. Hoefler's.

Will Not Meet—

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will not hold their regular meeting today, the members preferring to engage in home Thanksgiving festivities.

Deadrick-Thompson—

A quiet wedding took place yesterday afternoon, in the parlors of the Hotel Oriol, when Miss Lillie E. Deadrick of this city and Mr. Charles F. Thompson, of Sausalito, Calif., were made man and wife. The young people will reside in Sausalito.

Thanksgiving Service—

The Baptist, Methodist, Congregationalist and Presbyterian Church, will unite in a Thanksgiving service at the Methodist Church this morning at 10:30. Rev. Wm. S. Gilbert, pastor of the Presbyterian Church will preach the sermon. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend.

Charles V. Brown, the Commercial street shoeman intends to duplicate the gift and fun of yesterday, by turning six more gobblers loose on Christmas Eve next, upon the same terms as that of yesterday; which enterprise, no doubt, will be measurably appreciated by the youngsters of the city. Alec Stangland caught the fleeing 16-pounder cast loose yesterday.

Surprise Party—

Mr. and Mrs. William Jacobsen were the recipients of a genuine surprise Tuesday evening, when about 50 of their friends presented themselves at their home with the avowed intention of having a good time. The evening was pleasantly passed with games, music and dancing, after which refreshments were partaken of, and the guests departed expressing their appreciation of a delightful evening.

After Many Years—

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bergman, of this city, yesterday noon, enjoyed the pleasure of welcoming to their hospitable Bond street home, kinsmen from far Bavaria, in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Thurnauer, of Nuremberg in that famous old kingdom of Western Europe. Mrs. Thurnauer is a niece of Mrs. Bergman, and as a child spent some time in this city, and was a while a pupil of Miss McGregor then a teacher in the public schools. The party will remain for the next 10 days or two weeks, and will then continue their tour of the Pacific Coast cities.

Six More Turkeys—

Legal Holidays— Responding to a request from Police Judge Anderson, the city attorney filed an opinion regarding the transacting of business during the period proclaimed by the governor as holidays. The opinion states that according to the codes no judicial business can be transacted; a writ of execution could be avoided; the sale of property or effects by the chief of police would be illegal; and while issuance of warrants are not a process yet they are an official act and to avoid possible litigation it would be advisable not to issue them.

Court House Fixtures—

County Judge Trenchard and the members of the county commission indicated their intention yesterday of awarding the contract for the furnishing of the electric light and gas fixtures for the new court house, to the Astoria Electric Company. The action was taken that the company may have time to procure the fixtures and have them installed as rapidly as possible. The fixtures are of brush bronze and will cost about $4000. The formal order awarding the contract will be made as soon as the court meets in regular session at the conclusion of the present holidays.

The Chance is Yours—

A glance at the advertisement of Charles Heilborn & Company, in this issue, will indicate to you where and what that chance is, and what it is worth to you.

Was Never Found—

It is nine years ago today that the steamer Portland was lost. She left Boston the Saturday evening following Thanksgiving Day with a large passenger list (mostly Portland people, who had been to Boston to spend the holiday) in a blinding snowstorm; and although warned by the three steamers which had previously left for Maine ports, to return, as they were doing the captain did not do so and the boat was lost with all on board. The most peculiar circumstance connected with this wreck was that to this day it is not known where she went down. Some of the bodies were washed up near Cape Race but the only part of the ship that came ashore was the steering wheels. The underwriters have spent thousands of dollars trying to locate the wreck, but their efforts have been fruitless.

A Turkey Nearly Did BROWN—

At a few minutes past 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon about 6387 kids and a few hundred men and women crowded Commercial street between Charley Brown's Shoe Store and Herman Wise's clothes shop. When the "Brown" Turkey was let loose he showed his good sense by flying towards the entrance to Wise's store. Even a turkey knows enough to want to look Wise; the army of boys, however, thinking of stuffed turkey and cranberry sauce, grabbed Mr. Gobbler and proceeded to divest him of his feathers, coming within an ace of breaking the fine plateglass window in Wise's store. The question is: Would Charley have been done Brown if the glass got smashed? It was fortunate that the scrimmage resulted in nothing worse there a few black eyes and skinned legs. A bystander suggested that the turkey was "foolish" in not donning a "Wise" suit, before he started out. Moral: Don't be a turkey, else you'll be caught, without a WISE suit.

NO PERSONAL MENTION

John Tate, the Troy laundryman, came down from the metropolis on the noon train yesterday.

Mrs. E. G. Holt was a homing passenger on the 11:40 train yesterday morning, from Portland. Mr. and Mrs. John McGowan, of Ilwaco, went to the patriarchal home, at McGowan's, yesterday, to enjoy a Thanksgiving dinner with the head of the family, Hon. P. J. McGowan.

Dan Moore, of Seaside and Portland, was a passenger on the noon express yesterday, and went on to his ocean side house without stopping here for any great length of time.

Temperance Protest—

The Women's Christian Temperance Union have addressed a protest to the city council against the further issuance of saloon licenses on Commercial street. The protest in full is as follows:

Lane's Family Medicine will give you a digestion that will permit you to eat good things instead of "health foods" of various sorts that are as palatable as hay.
